“Emergency Medicine, Injury Prevention, and Control: Reflections about Leadership and Science Spanning Seven Decades”

Stephen W. Hargarten, MD, MPH

Professor of Emergency Medicine Founding Director, Comprehensive Injury Center Senior Science and Policy Advisor
Founding Associate Dean for Global Health Medical College of Wisconsin

Dr. Hargarten is a Professor of Emergency Medicine, immediate past Chair of the Department of Emergency Medicine, founding Associate Dean of Global Health, and founding Director of the Comprehensive Injury Center at the Medical College of Wisconsin. Dr. Hargarten's research reflects an intersection of injury, violence prevention, and health policy. His research linking data systems to understand violent deaths helped inform development of CDC's National Violent Death Reporting System and provided new insights into the ballistics of bullets that are linked to civilian deaths and injuries. He was inducted into the Johns Hopkins Society of Scholars and, in 2011, was elected to the National Academy of Medicine (NAM), recognized for his significant contributions to injury control, medicine, and public health.
